

A Covenant of Educational Pursuit and Community Leadership

In the course of human events, it becomes necessary for those who have been granted the boon of enlightenment and support to acknowledge the source of their benefaction and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the dignified and respectful station to which the Laws of Virtue and Charity entitle them. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all students endowed by saMas Charity with educational opportunities are invested with certain solemn duties, among these are to Return, to Lead, and to Inspire.

In the spirit of such unity and progress, we come together under the guiding light of saMas Charity to form a bond of educational pursuit and community leadership. Here are our shared promises:

Return of Kindness: I promise to give back the help I've received from saMas Charity when I'm able, so others can learn too.

Lead by Example: I will live honestly and be a good person, showing others the right way to be.

Help the Community: I vow to use what I learn to make my community better, to help others, and to support saMas Charity in its mission.

Stay Connected: I promise to keep in touch with saMas Charity, sharing my journey and helping when I can.

Be a Good Student: I will work hard at my studies, respect my teachers, and follow the rules of the program.

Spread the Word: I will tell others about saMas Charity and how it's helping students like me, to bring more support.

By signing this, I agree to these promises, knowing they help me, my community, and saMas Charity grow stronger together.
